SECTION TWO

BACKGROUND, OBJECTIVES, DESCRIPTION, MANAGEMENT PLAN AND LICENSEE OBLIGATIONS

2.1 OVERVIEW, HISTORY AND LOCATION

The State of Hawaii, through its Department of Hawaiian Home Lands, is responsible for the management of an extensive land trust consisting of over 200,000 acres of Hawaiian home lands on the islands of Kauai, Oahu, Maui, Molokai, Lanai and Hawaii.

In 2009 The Aina Mauna Legacy Program was approved by the Hawaiian Homes Commission for the management of over 56,000 acres of DHHL lands on the Northeast Slopes of Mauna Kea and Mauna Loa, in the ahupuaa of Humuula and Upper Piihonua. A major component of long term legacy program is the permanent restoration of the native koa and ohia forests and habitats which once dominated this landscape. Feral cattle have and continue to be a major contributor to native forest decline in the project area and their removal has been specifically identified as a priority action of the Aina Mauna Legacy Program.

The cattle removal license area is accessed from Keanakolu/Mana Road on the northeast flank of Mauna Kea on DHHL lands and is located along both sides of Keanakolu/Mana Road between Puu O'o to the south and Nauhi Gulch to the north on the island of Hawaii. Elevations range from 6,300 to 8,000 feet above sea level and the license area totals approximately 14,315 acres. The Tax Map Key number for this area and associated parcels are (3) 3-08-08:07: and (3) 3-8-01:02. Exhibits B-1 and B- 2 indicate the License Area location. DHHL reserves the right to remove portions of the feral cattle license area as they are cleared of cattle, for other beneficiary land use dispositions, or to implement other feral cattle removal strategies to supplement and expedite feral cattle removal.

The license area consists of a wide variety of habitats and vegetation, from steep, rocky land to more gentle slopes; from thick, impenetrable gorse to open koa/ohia forest and open grasslands. Since 2011, over 4,000 cattle have been removed across the DHHL Aina Mauna Lands through a feral cattle removal License 750. Despite considerable effort, removing sufficient amounts of cattle yearly to successfully and permanently remove feral cattle from the project area has not been achieved. 2018 Feral ungulate surveys of the project area identify that approximately 530 cattle remain in the project area and are targeted be removed by the selected Licensee of this RFP process.

Feral cattle in the project area decimate remaining koa and ohia forests and prevent natural regeneration and reforestation efforts. Loss of native forests cover leads to increased soil erosion, loss of native habitat, and decreased watershed function. Feral cattle contribute to spreading noxious weeds such as gorse and makes forests susceptible to diseases such as ceratocytis fungus (Rapid Ohia Death). Safe access for humans has declined as wild bulls delineate their territory and aggressively defend it. Valuable infrastructure such as fences and roads have deteriorated as the cattle break fences, dig soil pits, and deepen paths along exiting roadways.

2.2 PURPOSE OF LICENSE

The purpose of the license is to complete feral cattle removal from the Aina Mauna Lands. Specific objectives include:

- Remove all cattle from the designated project area within three years;
- Protect existing native ecosystems and promote the natural regeneration of koa, ohia and other native plants on site;
- Provide cattle to DHHL Beneficiaries;
- Contribute additional resources to Hawaii's existing cattle industry;
- Generate income for DHHL;
- Determine what barriers, natural and man-made, need to be created and/or maintained to protect the project area from future ingress by cattle.

2.3 PROJECT DESCRIPTION

All animals are expected to be captured regardless of age, sex, or condition, with the exception of animals that are sick, diseased, or too dangerous to handle safely. These cattle may be disposed of on-site in a humane and sanitary manner. Care will be employed to ensure that no corralled cattle escape from the Licensee's traps. Escaped cattle will learn to avoid traps and teach other cattle to avoid them, making subsequent captures more difficult.

Captured cattle will be photographed immediately to document and ascertain their numbers, sex, approximate age, size, and condition. Photographs will include a time and date stamp in the picture. Ownership will be determined via brands or other distinguishing ownership marks. All cattle without ownership marks are considered feral and belong to DHHL.

Captured DHHL feral cattle that are marketable will be purchased by the successful cattle removal Licensee, removed from the site within three (3) days of DHHL verification, and the appropriate fee paid via monthly invoices from DHHL.

Cattle to be distributed to DHHL homestead and waitlist beneficiaries shall be held off site and/or delivered to beneficiary groups.

Cattle identified as belonging to someone else via distinguishing brands or marks will be separated from DHHL feral cattle. The successful Licensee will be responsible for contacting DHHL and the owner within 24 hours so arrangements can be made for pickup of these "escaped ranch cattle".

The Licensee will be expected to hold any captured cattle, regardless of ownership, for not more than seven (7) days until removal can occur. Feed and water will be the Licensee's responsibility.

2.3.1 TYPES OF FERAL CATTLE

1. Marketable animals are healthy, mature (weaned) cattle without major health problems that are over 300 pounds.
2. Unmarketable animals are those deemed sick, unhealthy or too dangerous to capture safely. calves that are below 300 pounds are also considered unmarketable

The successful Licensee will determine which animals fit each description listed above, subject to inspection and approval by DHHL Project Manager.
